Fourth quarter total revenues were RMB1.1 billion, exceeding the high end of our previous guidance range. Our car trading transactions business continued to gain momentum in the fourth quarter with revenues up 28.7% year-over-year while contributing to the Company's total revenues by 67.0%. It is also playing a decisive role in upgrading our business to the platform model with an integrated ecosystem covering the entire auto transaction value chain.

"While the challenging backdrop continued to impact our automotive financing facilitation business, we remained focused on optimizing our organizational structure and leveraging technology to improve operating efficiency. Our B2B platform, 'Cango Haoche,' which provides one-stop transaction, logistics, finance, insurance and other auto-related services, gained further traction in the fourth quarter, garnering over two million total views since its launch last May. Our after-market services facilitation business also made progress as we completed the integration of Cango's insurance service portal with the Li Auto App. Furthermore, we persist in making every effort to enhance dealer loyalty by empowering them to address their business pain points, while continuously improving the competitiveness of each of our core business segments.

"Looking ahead, we remain cautious regarding the near-term outlook owing to factors including renewed Covid-19 outbreaks, global chip-shortages and other challenges to the macro environment. However, we will continue to focus on strengthening our integrated automotive transaction service platform, and exploring opportunities in the promising new energy vehicle market, while remaining steadfast in our mission to make selling and buying of cars simple and enjoyable."

Mr. Yongyi Zhang, Chief Financial Officer of Cango, stated, "During the fourth quarter, macroeconomic headwinds persisted with global chip shortages directly impacting China's automotive industry. Facing external pressures, we continued to made steady progress in the fourth quarter with top line beating our previous guidance. Use of Non-GAAP Financial Measure

In evaluating the business, the Company considers and uses Non-GAAP adjusted net income, a non-GAAP measure, as a supplemental measure to review and assess its operating performance. The presentation of the non-GAAP financial measure is not intended to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for the financial information prepared and presented in accordance with U.S. GAAP. The Company defines Non-GAAP adjusted net income as net income excluding share-based compensation expenses. The Company presents the non-GAAP financial measure because it is used by the management to evaluate the operating performance and formulate business plans. Non-GAAP adjusted net income enables the management to assess the Company's operating results without considering the impact of share-based compensation expenses, which are non-cash charges. The Company also believes that the use of the non-GAAP measure facilitates investors' assessment of its operating performance.

Non-GAAP adjusted net income is not defined under U.S. GAAP and is not presented in accordance with U.S. GAAP. This non-GAAP financial measure has limitations as analytical tools. One of the key limitations of using Non-GAAP adjusted net income is that it does not reflect all items of expense that affect the Company's operations. Share-based compensation expenses have been and may continue to be incurred in the business and are not reflected in the presentation of Non-GAAP adjusted net income. Further, the non-GAAP measure may differ from the non-GAAP information used by other companies, including peer companies, and therefore their comparability may be limited.

The Company compensates for these limitations by reconciling the non-GAAP financial measure to the nearest U.S. GAAP performance measure, all of which should be considered when evaluating the Company's performance. The Company encourages you to review its financial information in its entirety and not rely on a single financial measure.

Reconciliations of Cango's non-GAAP financial measure to the most comparable U.S. GAAP measure are included at the end of this press release.
